Company Profile

Power-One is one of the world's ten largest providers of power conversion and management solutions, and offers a diversified array of energy-saving "green" products:

- Alternative-Energy inverters facilitate harvesting clean power from the sun and wind.
- AC-DC products refine AC, such as wall outlet electricity, into the DC lower voltages needed within all systems that utilize electronic components.
- DC-DC converters convert a DC voltage into another value required by a circuit board or semiconductor.
- Intelligent Controls manage energy use in residential, utility, and industrial applications.
- Network Power Systems facilitate high-availability power for telecom landline and wireless systems.

Power-One's high-efficiency products save energy by providing more useable output power and generating less waste heat; which saves additional energy by reducing host-system and facility-level cooling requirements... (more)
