Cognex is the world's leading supplier of machine vision systems - or computers that can "see".

Our company has been recognized in leading publications such as Forbes, Fortune, and the Wall culture. With the largest market share of the machine vision market, a reputation for being the technology leader, and a strong global sales and support network, we believe we are well positioned for growth as we expand our business further in the industrial marketplace.

is traded on the Nasdaq Stock Market, LLC, under the symbol CGNX.
