Company Profile

Lightbridge Corporation (NASDAQ: LTBR) is developing and commercializing next generation nuclear fuel technology that is safer, increases power output, lowers cost, enhances economics, and reduces waste. This is best evidenced by the fact that four of the leading North American utilities, which collectively represent about 50% of all nuclear power production in the U.S., have publicly expressed interest in the Company's technology, formally requesting the NRC to prepare to review Lightbridge's patented metallic fuel designs starting in 2017. Assuming just 25% penetration of t... \(more\)
